

SHALE GAS INNOVATION WORKSHOP

Friday, November 18, 2011 | 8:00 AM – 2:15 PM

Forum Room 107

The Penn Stater Conference Center Hotel

215 Innovation Boulevard

State College, PA 16803

WORKSHOP GOALS

Ben Franklin's Shale Gas Innovation & Commercialization Center (SGICC) and Penn State Marcellus Center for Outreach (MCOR) invite researchers, innovators, and entrepreneurs to attend the first Shale Gas Innovation Workshop, where attendees will:

- Learn about Pennsylvania's rapidly-growing Marcellus shale gas industry
- Understand the shale gas industry's technical needs and operational challenges
- Present research interests, technical ideas, and new solutions for industry needs
- Interact with several industry personnel, researchers, innovators, and entrepreneurs

Faculty and researchers are invited to attend and discuss their research and how it may address various shale gas industry needs. Please e-mail a 250-word summary of research interests to billhall@rtto.psu.edu by Friday, November 11, 2011. Ben Franklin may support promising ideas with funding for further development and commercialization.
